

ULLABY WIEGENLIED

English version by Edith Tillotson

MOZART

Andante

Slum-ber my dar- ling, and rest,
Never a sound doth a - rise,
Who spends a hap- pi - er day?

Birds are a-sleep in their Ev'- ry one slumbering Naught but to rest and to nest,

lies,
play:

Si-lent the gar-den and hill.
Each one a-sleep in the house,
Sweetmeats and toys to a - muse.

Bees in the meadow are Ev-en the wee lit-tle Waitingwhenev- er you still.

mouse.
choose.

Soft - ly the moon's sil - ver light
Each one in search of a dream,
All things are done for thy ease,

f

Peeps thro' thy win-dow, to - night,
Un-der the moonlight's soft gleam,
All things thy wish - es to please,

Ev - er a watch it will Rest shall be qui - et and Nev - er a rea - son to mf

p keep,

deep,
weep,

Slum-ber, then dar - ling, and sleep. Oh
Slum-ber, then dar - ling, and sleep. Oh
Slum-ber, then dar - ling, and sleep. Oh

p

pp dolcissimo

sleep _____ oh sleep.—
sleep _____ oh sleep.—
sleep _____ oh sleep.—

mf